TOTAL: 7,100

NOTE: Due to the coronavirus pandemic in 2020, this schedule was delayed by a year, serving 2020 schools in 2021, etc. Goal is to hit every elementary school once every three years with in-depth bike-ped program. This gives K-5 students one to two years' exposure to program. The middle-school program focuses on one grade level only (normally sixth), giving virtually all public-school students three years of program exposure before high school. Individual students may participate in additional bike-ped activities, such as International Walk to School Day, National Bike to School Day, Bike Week, school walkathons/triathlons, biking/walking clubs and camps, bike-ped assemblies, Family Bike Rodeos, biking/walking field trips, and other SRTS-related activities in the community. High-school program includes traditional "Bike PE" curriculum as well as "Bicycle Friendly Driver" certification.

Charter schools, private schools, and youth organizations also receive SRTS programming by request.
