

“Everyone came to know him for his huge smile and the joy and enthusiasm that he brought to races.

More recently, I learned of his amazing comeback to riding after his tragic car crash and how it led to his art career. His love for mountain biking informed his art and motivated his recovery and has inspired everyone who knows his story”

- Laird Knight